

Autorenhinweis

Graduate students and professional scholars studying late medieval history, with interests in intellectual history, the history of the universities, the history of education, the history of science and medical history.