

ISFLL Vol. 11

Translation and Philosophy

Edited by Lisa Foran

Peter Lang

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
INTRODUCTION
What is the Relation between Translation and Philosophy?	i
THEO HARDEN
The Awful German Language, or, Is ‘ Die Geistige Entwicklung ’ ‘The Mental Development’?	13
DAVID CHARLSTON
Translating Hegel’s Ambiguity: A Culture of Humor and Witz	27
DAPHNA ERDINAST-VULCAN
Reading Oneself in Quotation Marks: At the Crossing of Disciplines	41
ANDREW WHITEHEAD
Moonless Moons and a Pretty Girl: Translating Ikkyū Sōjun	53
ANGELO BOTTONE
Translation and Justice in Paul Ricoeur	65
LISA FORAN
Translation as a Path to the Other: Derrida and Ricoeur	75
ELAD LAPIDOT
What is the Reason for Translating Philosophy? I. Undoing Babel	89

ALENA DVORAKOVA

- Pleasure in Translation: Translating Mill's 'Utilitarianism'
from English into Czech 107

VERONICA O'NEILL

- The Underlying Role of Translation:
A Discussion of Walter Benjamin's 'Kinship' 125

SERGEY TYULENEV

- Systemics and Lifeworld of Translation 139

FEARGUS DENMAN

- Translation, Philosophy and Language: What Counts? 157

- Bibliography 173

- Notes on Contributors 183

- Index 187