

A Postcolonial Reading OF THE Acts OF THE Apostles

RUBÉN MUÑOZ-LARRONDO

Studies in Biblical Literature | 147

Table of Contents

Editor's Preface	xiii
Chapter 1. Postcolonial Criticism as an Optic for Biblical Studies	1
Introduction	1
Definitions	3
The Prefix "Post"	5
Postcolonialism and Biblical Studies	6
Conclusion	7
Postcolonial Categories	9
Hybridity	9
Diaspora-Alterity	12
Mimicry/Mockery	16
Identity	17
Race in Imperialism and Colonialism	20
The Signifiers of Race, Culture, and Nation	25
Problems of Representation	27
Examples of Representation of the Other	29
Feminism and Race	30
Empire Representations—Greeks, Romans and Jews	32
The Greeks	32
Examples of the Literary Construct of Barbarism—The Romans	34
Judaism	35
Conclusion	36
My Critique and Some Observations	37
Chapter 2. The Death of Herod Agrippa I as Starting Point	43
Introduction	43
Analysis of Acts 12 as Narrative Context	44
Some Observations Regarding Herod Julius Agrippa I as a King of Judea	46
Analysis of Acts 12 as Type-Scene	50
Definitions and Usage	50
The Model of the Passion	53
The Model of the Exodus	56
The Model of Food Dependence in Acts 12	62

Models of Self-Exaltation in Luke-Acts	64
Role and Purpose of Acts 12 in Luke-Acts	68
Chapter 3. Roman Imperial Worship—Presuppositions for the Study	75
Roman Religion in History	75
Introduction and Presuppositions	75
Roman Self-Identity and Religion	80
Corporate Identity	80
Religio Licita or Non Licita ?	81
The Ruler Cult—Imperial Worship in History	82
Introduction	82
Understanding the Other in History	84
The Oriental or Eastener Perspective	85
An Example Comparing the Romans with the Egyptians	88
The Problem of Divinization or Deification	89
Traditional Posture or Shared Cult Partnership between Emperors and Local Gods	92
Mandatory or Voluntary Worship	96
Imperial Cult Development during the Time of Augustus	98
Other Emperors	101
The Importance of Neokoros as Sole Cult for the Emperor and Not as a Combined Worship to God/dess and the Emperor	102
Introduction to Neokoroi	102
Ephesus	104
Gaius & Nero	105
The Augusti	106
Theologoi	107
Domitian	107
Other Elements: The Different Colossi and the Worship of the Augusti	107
Hadrian	108
Conclusion	109
Examples from Other Cities	109
Smyrna	109
Kyzikus	111

Excursus: Inscriptions Bearing the Names of Emperors as Gods	112
Conclusion	115
Chapter 4. Representation in Acts of the Institutions of Judaism	117
Introduction	117
Jewish and Jewish Christian Self-Identity and the Institutions in History	118
The Institution of the Sanhedrin	123
Representation and Evaluation of Jewish Establishment in Acts	126
The Prologue of Acts	126
Transference of Powers	128
From the Center of the World to the End of the Earth	132
The Term End of the Earth	133
The Kingdom of Israel and Kingdom of God	135
The Mistaken Restoration of the Kingdom to Israel versus the Establishment of the Eschatological Kingdom of God	135
Relationship of the Kingdom to Jerusalem versus the Concept of House and Sons of Israel	137
The Importance of the Temple	141
The Purpose of the Temple— Oikos in Stephen's Speech	144
Rulers and Judges as Leaders in Relation to Stephen's Speech and the Temple	146
The Concept of House- Oikos Compared to the Rending of the Veil of the Temple in Luke-Acts	148
The Identity of the Jews—the Rejection	152
Who are the Persecutors and the Ioudaioi in Acts?	152
New Opposition Groups, the Pseudo-Prophet and the Directional Shift	158
From Synagogues to Gentiles?	161
The Jews of Asia	162
Conclusion	163
The Lukan Paul	163
The Jewish-Pharisee Paul	164
The Identity of Paul and the Jews	164
Paul and Other Groups	165
Paul's Hybridity	170
Conclusion	173

Chapter 5. The Roman Representation in the Acts of the Apostles	175
Introduction	175
In the Roman Colony of Philippi: Proclaiming “Unlawful Customs for Romans to Adopt”	176
Philippi as a Roman Colony: Instances that Depict its Structures of Power	178
In Front of the Roman Authorities: The Arrest and Trial	180
Incarceration and Deliverance	187
The Release—A Conclusion	190
Against the Decrees of Caesar in Thessalonica	191
The Accusation: Turning the World (Oikoumenē) Upside-Down	191
Trial and Sentence—Acting Contrary to the Decrees of Caesars: A Brief Excurses on Some of the Decrees	194
Cases of Idolatry and Mockery of the Roman Representation—
In Athens	200
Athens and Lystra	201
“Who Does Not Know?” Idolatry and Imperial Worshipers in Ephesus	206
The Burning of Incantation and Magic Books	207
Accusation: “Gods are Not Made with Hands”—A Case of Disrepute	209
The Ambivalent “Some” of the Asiarchs	212
Treating Identity and Commercialism	215
In Front of the Roman Authorities—A Final Conclusion	218
The Arrest in the Temple by the Roman Tribune—Seeing the Other	218
In Front of the Roman Governors	223
In Front of Felix	224
In Front of Festus	225
In Front of Agrippa II—The Client-King of the Romans	228
Conclusion	229
General Conclusions and Observations	230
Bibliography	237