

Contents

List of Figures	page vii
List of Tables	ix
Introduction: Two Puzzles	1
1 The President’s Legislative Policy Agenda	13
2 Studying Agenda Building	34
3 A Theory of Presidential Agenda Building and the Congressional Response	48
4 The Size of the President’s Agenda, 1789–2002	97
5 The Substantive Content of Presidential Agendas	140
6 Divided Government and Presidential Policy Moderation	188
7 From the White House to Capitol Hill	208
8 Conclusion	256
Bibliography	275
Index	299

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-01270-7 - The President's Legislative Policy Agenda, 1789–2002

Jeffrey E. Cohen

Table of Contents

More information

List of Figures

1.1	Presidential Agendas, Congressional Agendas, and Congressional Actions on Those Agendas.	page 24
1.2	Potential and Actual Presidential Agendas.	31
4.1	The Number of Presidential Legislative Requests, 1st to 107th Congresses (1789–2002).	99
4.2	The Number of Presidential Legislative Requests, 1st to 78th Congresses (1789–1944).	104
4.3	Congressional Bill Introductions and Presidential Legislative Requests, 1st to 107th Congresses (1789–2002).	109
4.4	Presidential Requests and Government Outlays as a Percentage of GDP, 1st to 107th Congresses (1789–2002).	114
4.5	Residuals for Analysis of the Size of the President's Agenda from Table 4.2, Reduced Form Estimation.	127
4.6	Presidential Requests to Congress and the Public Mood, by Year, 1951–2002.	130
4.7	Residuals for Reduced Form Estimation, Annual Results, from Table 4.3.	133
5.1	Number of Policy Areas in Which the President Made at Least One Legislative Request, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses).	148
5.2	Number of Domestic Policy Presidential Legislative Requests, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses).	157

viii	LIST OF FIGURES
5.3	Number of International Relations Presidential Legislative Requests, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 158
5.4	Number of National Sovereignty Presidential Legislative Requests, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 158
5.5	Number of Government Organization Presidential Legislative Requests, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 159
5.6	Proportion of the President’s Legislative Policy Agenda Devoted to the Four Major Policy Domains, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 162
5.7	Comparing the Number of Presidential Proposals for Domestic and Nondomestic Policies, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 167
5.8	Trends in Presidential Attention to the Four Domestic Policy Clusters: Agriculture, Natural Resources, Political Economy, and Social Policy, 1789–2002 (1st to 107th Congresses). 168
6.1	Presidential Policy Choice under Majority versus Minority Status and Different Degrees of Party Polarization. 196
6.2	Three Measures of Presidential Policy Extremism 1951–2002: z-scores. 201
7.1	Creating a Roll Call Data Set from a Presidential Proposal Data Set. 213
7.2	Aggregate Presidential Success, by Congress, 1st to 100th Congresses. 237

List of Tables

4.1	Dickey-Fuller Unit Root Tests for Variables Used in the Analysis of Total Presidential Requests to Congress, 1789–2002.	page 118
4.2	Congressional, Administrative, Representational, and Partisan Impacts on the Number of Presidential Legislative Proposals, 1789–2002 (Single-equation Error Correction Estimation).	121
4.3	Influences on the Size of Modern Presidential Legislative Agendas, 1951–2002 (Annual Data; Single-equation Error Correction Estimation).	132
5.1	The Katznelson-Lapinski Policy Coding Scheme.	145
5.2	Presidential Legislative Requests: Three Most Important Policy Areas by Congresses.	153
5.3	Descriptive Statistics of Presidential Attention to the Four Policy Domains.	157
5.4	Policy Domain Proportion by Congress, 1789–2002.	163
5.5	Breusch-Pagan Test of Independence of Equations for the Seemingly Unrelated Regression (Estimation Results Presented in Table 5.6).	174
5.6	Congressional, Administrative, Representational, and Partisan Impacts on the Number of Presidential Legislative Proposals by Policy Domain, 1789–2002 (Seemingly Unrelated Regression, Single-equation Error Correction Estimation).	175
5.A	Congressional, Administrative, Representational, and Partisan Impacts on the Number of Presidential ix

x	LIST OF TABLES
	Legislative Proposals by Policy Domain, 1789–2002 (OLS, Single-equation Error Correction Estimation). 187
6.1	Descriptive Statistics for Three Measures of Presidential Extremism, 1951–2002. 201
6.2	Dickey-Fuller Unit Root Tests for Variables Included in the Analysis. 202
6.3	Impact of Party Activists, Congressional Context, and Public Mood on Presidential Policy Extremism, 1951–2002. 204
7.1	Impact of Agenda Size and Divided Government on Individual Proposal Success, 1st to 100th Congresses, Multivariate Probit (Clustered on Congress). 226
7.2	Impact of Agenda Size and Divided Government on Individual Proposal Success, 1st to 100th Congresses, Two-stage Probit (Clustered on Congress). 229
7.3	Impact of Agenda Proposal Success, 7th to 100th Congresses, Congressional Level, Aggregate Analysis, Two-stage Least Squares. 239
7.4	Impact of the Modern Presidency on Individual Proposal Success, 1st to 100th Congresses, Multivariate Probit (Clustered on Congress). 243
7.5	Impact of the Size of the President's Legislative Policy Agenda on the Probability of Individual Proposal Success in Congress for Premodern and Modern Presidents. 244
7.6	Impact of the Modern Presidency on Agenda Proposal Success, 7th to 100th Congresses, Congressional Level, Aggregate Analysis, Two-stage Least Squares. 246
7.7	Presidential Policy Extremism, Divided Government, and Presidential Success in Congress, 1952–2000. 251