

VOLUME II

ESSAYS ON

Sir Gawain and the Green Knight, Langland and Chaucer

Gerald Morgan

Contents

	Acknowledgments	vi
	Abbreviations	ix
	Preface	xvi
I	Medieval Misogyny and Gawain's Outburst against Women in Sir Gawain and the Green Knight]
2	The Dignity of Langland's Meed	23
3	Chaucer's Adaptation of Boccaccio's Temple of Venus in The Parliament of Fowls	45
4	Moral and Social Identity and the Idea of Pilgrimage in the General Prologue to The Canterbury Tales	93
5	Obscenity and Fastidiousness in The Miller's Tale	129
6	Chaucer's Man of Law and the Argument for Providence	165
7	The Logic of The Clerk's Tale	209
8	Boccaccio's Filocolo and the Moral Argument of The Franklin's Tale	243
	Index	269