

Contents

List of Tables and Figures	page vii
Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xiii
List of Abbreviations	xv
A Note on Sources	xix
1. Labor and the Development of the Postwar Welfare State	i
Revisiting the Role of Labor in Welfare State Development	3
Union Structure and the Emergence of the Public and Private Welfare State	10
The Organization of This Book	15
2. Labor Divided	19
Revisiting British Voluntarism	27
Shaping Solidarity: Union Structure and the Representation of Workers' Interests	44
Unions, Employers, and the Notion of the Social Wage	52
Looking Ahead	62
3. The Development of Old Age Pensions in the Netherlands and the United Kingdom	63
Solidarity versus Egalitarianism: Comparing Pension Reform in the Netherlands and the United Kingdom	66
Labor Unions and the Rejection of a Redistributive Contributory Pension Scheme in the United Kingdom	73
Unions, Employers, and the Move Toward Full Subsistence Pensions in the Netherlands	87
A Final Note on Employers	98

Cambridge University Press

978-1-107-03549-2 - Labor Divided in the Postwar European Welfare State:
The Netherlands and the United Kingdom

Dennie Oude Nijhuis

Table of Contents

More information

vi

Contents

4.	The Development of Unemployment Insurance in the Netherlands and the United Kingdom	102
	Toward Superannuation for the Unemployed in the United Kingdom	105
	The Economic Benefits of Unemployment Compensation	108
	The Introduction of the Earnings-Related Supplementary Scheme	119
	From Bismarck to the Social Insurance in the Netherlands	125
	From Grant to Right: Introduction of the Unemployment Provision	136
5.	The Development of Disability Insurance in the Netherlands and the United Kingdom	141
	The Trades Union Congress and the Industrial Preference	144
	The Evolution of Public Protection from Non-Work-Related Disabilities in the United Kingdom	153
	Toward a Single Disability Insurance Program for All Disabled People in the Netherlands	161
	The General Disability Act and Inclusion of the Self-Employed	174
6.	Union Solidarity and the Use of Social Security for Early Retirement Purposes in the Netherlands	177
	Explaining the Extraordinary Exit of Elderly Workers from the Dutch Labor Market	179
	The Dutch Disability Insurance Program and Exit from the Labor Market	186
	Early Exit through the Dutch Unemployment System	196
	The Introduction of Industry-wide Early Retirement Schemes	202
7.	Conclusions and Implications	207
	Occupational Unionism and the Emergence of Divided Welfare States	211
	Union Structure and Labor Market Development	217
	Mapping Social Solidarity	222
	Bibliography	225
	Index	243