

Hildesheimer Schriften zur Interkulturellen Kommunikation

Edited by Friedrich Lenz and Stephan Schlickau

Beatrix Kreß (ed.)

Totalitarian Political Discourse?

Tolerance and Intolerance in Eastern and East Central European Countries

Diachronic and Synchronic Aspects

Volume 5

PETER LANG

Internationaler Verlag der Wissenschaften

Inhalt

Beatrix Kreß

Introduction..... 7

Holger Kuße

Emotive signs and evaluation in totalitarian language: About Bexu and Andrej Vyšinskij 13

Claudia Woldt

Deontic modality in political discourse – expressions of tolerance and intolerance in Czech parliamentary debates before and after 1989 27

Vladislava Warditz

Totalitarianism – Anti-totalitarianism – Post-totalitarianism? A historical perspective on totalitarian discourse in Russian linguistics..... 39

Karen Gammelgaard

Totalitarian self-designation: the case of jednota in the Czech totalitarian register 1948–1953 51

Dmitrij Dobrovol'skij & Ludmila Pöppel

The semantic field of POWER and political propaganda: революция (revolution) vs. переворот (coup) and восстание (uprising) vs. мятеж (revolt) 73

Tora Hedin

Changing media discourse – the Czech daily Rudé právo in the Stalinist years 91

Ioulia Grigorieva

Moralizing speech acts in German and Russian print media during the 2008 South Ossetia War 107

Beatrix Kreß

Is there a totalitarian language in non-totalitarian states?..... 129

Marina Scharlaj

Personalization, visualization and McDonaldization of power in Belarus 141

Liana Goletiani

Environmental discourse in Russia – linguistic cultural traditions and contemporary metaphors..... 155

Sabine Borovanská

Doing gender by Czech politicians and their partners 177