

Edmund Morawiec

Intellectual Intuition in the General Metaphysics of Jacques Maritain

A Study in the History of the Methodology of Classical Metaphysics

European Studies in Theology,
Philosophy and History of Religions

Edited by Bartosz Adamczewski

PETER LANG
EDITION

Table of Contents

Introduction.....	7
1. Jacques Maritain's understanding of intellectual intuition.....	15
1.1. The distinctive character of philosophical intuition.....	15
1.1.1. Defining intellectual intuition.....	16
1.1.2. Intellectual intuition in pre-scientific cognition	21
1.1.3. Intellectual intuition in philosophical cognition.....	24
1.2. Intellectual intuition in cognitive operations	30
1.2.1. Intellectual intuition in sensory-intellectual perception	30
1.2.1.1. Intuition in sensory-intellectual perception at the level of sensory cognition.....	32
1.2.1.2. Intellectual intuition in sensory-intellectual perception at the level of mental cognition	37
1.2.2. Intellectual intuition in forming judgements.....	44
1.2.3. Intuition in the process of reasoning.....	51
2. The role of intellectual intuition in arriving at the concept of being	59
2.1. Being as the object of metaphysical cognition	59
2.1.1. Some reflections on understanding the word “object”	60
2.1.2. The concept of being as the object of metaphysical cognition	64
2.1.3. Understanding being as the object of non-metaphysical types of cognition	75
2.1.4. The transcendental and analogous nature of the concept of being as being.....	80
2.2. The operation of forming the concept of the object of metaphysics.....	90
2.2.1. Abstraction as an intensive visualization exceeding the eidetic aspect of being	91
2.2.2. The assertion of claims constituting the departure point for forming the concept of the object of metaphysics	94

3. The intuitive validation of the first principles of being	103
3.1. The relation of the first principles of being to the concept of being as being	103
3.1.1. On understanding the term “principle”	103
3.1.2. Outline of the first principles of being from the viewpoint of their linguistic formulae	106
3.1.3. The first principles of being as a result of the illumination of the concept of being as being	133
3.1.4. The position of the first principles in the system of classical metaphysics	140
3.1.4.1. Metaphysics and its structure	141
3.1.4.2. The role of first principles in metaphysics	151
3.2. The method of validating the first principles of being	158
3.2.1. Indemonstrability of the first principles of being	158
3.2.2. The intuitive character of the first principles of being	166
3.2.2.1. The structure of the process whereby the concept of being as being is illuminated	166
3.2.2.2. The first principles of being as per se nota propositions	175
3.2.3. Understanding metaphysics as the most general theory of reality	181
Conclusion	187
Bibliography	191