

Volume 02

Cross-Roads.

Polish Studies in Culture,
Literary Theory, and History

Edited by Ryszard Nycz and Teresa Walas

Andrzej Zawadzki

Literature and Weak Thought

PETER LANG EDITION

Table of contents

Preface	7
I. WEAK THOUGHT: PHILOSOPHICAL FOUNDATIONS.....	11
Introduction.....	11
Noica: The Romanian Fragility of Being	24
Vattimo: Nihilism, Hermeneutics, Art.....	47
Weak Thought in the Context of Philosophical and Cultural Tradition	55
The Weakening of Nietzsche	56
Nietzsche, Marx, Emancipation	57
Between Dialectical Reason and Hermeneutical Reason	64
Nietzsche, Heidegger, Hermeneutics	69
Weak Thought and Post-Structuralism	73
A Lexicon of Weak Thought: Verwindung, Andenken, pietas	78
Nihilism and Hermeneutics	92
The Death of Art, Death in Art.....	109
The Abyss of Language	117
II. THE WEAK ONTOLOGY OF THE LITERARY WORK	125
Introduction.....	125
Imitating as Tracing the World.....	131
The Three Forms of Mimesis in Plato's Philosophy	131
The Republic : The Mimesis of Participation	132
The Sophist : The Mimesis of Similarity	139
The Theaetetus: The Mimesis of the Trace	146
The Ethics of the Trace	152
The Three Versions of the Trace in Contemporary Philosophy	156
Appendix: Plato's Mimetic Triangle.....	163
Sketching the Author	167
The Crisis of the Subject: Difference, Interpretation, Critical Point...167

The “Unfortunate Contradiction” of Modern Subjectivity – A Provisional Diagnosis.....	172
The Author’s Traits: The Trace as a New Formula for the Presence of the Subject in a Text	176
III. MODERN LITERATURE AND TRACES.....	183
Introduction.....	183
“Tracing the Traces”: An Overview of Weak Ontology in Polish Literature of the Twentieth Century	184
“Nothing Comes Before Something”: Nihilism before Nihilism	185
“Impoverishment, Weakening, Disintegration”: Weak Form in Twentieth-Century Art	188
“The Disappearance of the Contents of the World”	191
“Tracing the Traces”	194
“The Generosity of the Trace”: On Leśmian’s “Snow”	201
Gombrowicz and Weak Thought.....	214
Weakness and the Trace in the Poetry of Tadeusz Różewicz.....	221
“The Poet Weakens, Images Lose Their Strength”: Różewicz’s Weak form.....	222
“The traits destroyed by time / portray our common face”: Traces of the Subject, Subject as Trace	228
IV. OTHER FORMS OF IMITATION/TRACING:
DANCE, MIME, ORNAMENT.....	237
“Only in dance do I know how to speak the parables of the highest things”: The Metaphor of Dance in the Modernist Tradition.....	237
Mime and Mimesis: Mime and Pantomime in Modern Literary Consciousness ..	245
The Language of Movement: Mime and Pantomime in the Conceptions of the Framers of the Great Theater Reform	247
Norwid, Mallarmé, Leśmian: Mime as the Representation of a Representation	251
Creating Presence: Mime and the Phenomenon of Representation.....	257
The Metaphor of the Ornament in Philosophical Discourse: From Kant to Vattimo.....	267