

Marek Kuźniak / Agnieszka Libura /
Michał Szawerna (eds.)

From Conceptual Metaphor Theory to Cognitive Ethnolinguistics

Patterns of Imagery in Language

PETER LANG
EDITION

Table of contents

Marek Kuźniak, Agnieszka Libura, Michał Szawerna Introduction.....	7
Part 1
Imagery we live by	15
Elżbieta Górską Why are multimodal metaphors interesting? The perspective of verbo-visual and verbo-musical modalities	17
Krzysztof Kosecki Ethnic and gender stereotypes in signed languages: A cognitive linguistic view.....	37
Amelia Kielbawska Metaphor, language and gesture	51
Eleonora Pawłowicz Swan neck and goose rump: Metaphor and metonymy in specialized English and Polish equestrian vocabulary	65
Anna Rewiś-Łętkowska Conceptualizations of fear in English and Polish	79
Shala Barczewska Headlines of controversy and the role of metonymy and metaphor	93
Azad Mammadov, Misgar Mammadov The role of figurative language in political discourse	113
Part 2
Structures of meaning. Investigating lexicon, grammar and text	127
Jacek Woźny Levels of countability: A corpus based study	129
Joanna Paszenda English and Polish ditransitive constructions in contrast: A construction grammar approach	141

Przemysław Brom

Analysis of the verbal prefix iz- in Croatian using the corpus-driven method of cognitive linguistics 163

Magdalena Zawisławska, Maciej Ogrodniczuk

The same or just much the same? Problems with coreference from the reader's perspective 173

Marta Dobrowolska

Cognitive grammar methods in the study of Polish emotion verbs 185

Olga Luntcova

Gradation in the 'friend–enemy' opposition in English and Russian 197

Part 3

Advancing theoretical tools 205

Adam Glaz, Katarzyna Prorok

Of triangles, trapeziums and ethnolinguists: The linguistic worldview revisited 207

Jolanta Mazurkiewicz-Sokołowska

About the need to integrate research approaches to the language faculty phenomenon 229

Gábor Simon

Embodiment and metaphorical meaning creation 249

Tomasz Włodarski

The role of textual value-triggering snapshots in valuation 267