

Olga Aleksandrowska

The Educational Potential of Texts of Culture in Teaching English to Senior Secondary School Students

PETER LANG EDITION

Contents

Acknowledgements.....	9
Introduction.....	11
1. Selected problems in English language teaching at senior secondary schools	15
1.1 Matura examination-oriented teaching.....	16
1.2 Excessive emphasis on teaching English for communication	24
1.3 The paucity of content of coursebook texts	27
1.4 The poor quality of student oral and written output	32
1.5 Teachers' inefficiency in exploiting the cognitive potential of texts	36
1.6 Teachers' reservations and excuses.....	40
1.7 Concluding remarks.....	44
2. The educational potential of English language lessons.....	45
2.1 Linguistic goals and wider educational goals of English language teaching	45
2.2 Multi-dimensional foreign language education	46
2.3 The concept of educating through content	52
2.4 What is understood by "valuable content"?.....	53
2.5 Educational and uneducational texts.....	55
2.5.1 The idea of cognitive appeal	57
2.5.2 Four categories of educational texts	58
2.5.3 Texts with cognitive appeal in aim-centred methodology.....	59
2.5.4 A multimodal approach to educational texts.....	61
2.6 Concluding remarks.....	64
3. The importance of texts of culture as classroom resources.....	65
3.1 Defining the concepts culture and text of culture	65
3.2 Dimensions and functions of a text of culture	70
3.3 Categories and types of texts of culture.....	73
3.4 A text of culture as an educational text	77

3.5	The role of texts of culture in the student's general development	80
3.5.1	Language improvement	80
3.5.2	Cognitive enrichment	85
3.5.3	Emotional and aesthetic growth	89
3.5.4	Motivation	91
3.6	Concluding remarks.....	94
4.	The selection of texts of culture for English lessons	95
4.1	Students' personal characteristics and preferences	96
4.1.1	Age and emotional maturity.....	96
4.1.2	Students' interests and motivation.....	98
4.2	Difficulty	100
4.2.1	Linguistic and conceptual difficulty	101
4.2.2	Cultural difficulties	103
4.3	Educational and artistic values	105
4.4	Stimulus value: the cognitive appeal of the text and the student's feedback	111
4.5	Teaching aims and compliance with curricular goals and content.....	116
4.6	Authenticity.....	120
4.7	Organizational and technical aspects	123
4.8	A sample rationale for a text of culture	126
4.9	Concluding remarks.....	128
5.	The English teacher's competences and roles in using texts of culture at English language lessons	129
5.1	The three spheres of the foreign language teacher's education	129
5.2	Selected English language teacher's characteristics	132
5.3	Roles and competences of the English teacher.....	134
5.3.1	The teacher as an educator	136
5.3.2	The teacher as a role model and an active participant of cultural life	137
5.3.3	The teacher as a user of texts of culture at lessons.....	138
5.3.4	The teacher as a facilitator and a cultural mediator	141
5.3.5	The teacher as a competent user of the multimedia.....	143
5.4	Concluding remarks.....	146

6. A few remarks on the integration of texts of culture into the English language curriculum.....	149
Conclusion	157
References.....	159
Index of authors.....	173
Index of subjects.....	177