

ANJA HÄNSCH

SYMBOLIC PATTERNS OF CHILDBIRTH

PETER LANG

Contents

Preface.....	13
Acknowledgements.....	15
I. CHILD BIRTH AS SYMBOLIC PATTERNS, EXPERIENCE AND PERFORMANCE	19
II. A CONCEPTION OF CHILDBIRTH.....	25
1. The Paradigm: Hannah Arendt's Philosophy of Natality.....	25
1.1 Primary, Political, Theoretical and Spiritual Natality: Four Ways of Accessing a Beginning	26
1.2 Natalities and Immortalities	30
2. Childbirth, Sex and Gender.....	34
3. Conceiving of the Birthgiving Woman.....	37
3.1 From an Existential Definition of Death to an Existential Definition of Giving Birth	37
3.2 Thrownness and Anxiety	41
3.3 Pain as Disclosing Mystery, Standstill and Non-Relationality.....	43
III. SYMBOLIC PATTERNS OF CHILDBIRTH	47
III.1 THE SUPREMACY OF THE MALE	49
1.1 Creation as Procreation in Egyptian Cosmogony.....	50
1.2 The Twelfth Tablet of the Gilgamesh-Epic	53
1.3 Hesiod: On Anadyomène	56
1.4 Genesis: Woman of Man Born	57
1.5 The Genealogies of the Old Testament and of Prophet Muhammad	58
1.6 Mimesis: The Births of Athena and Dionysos.....	60

1.7	The Semen and the Stars: Aristotle's De Generatione Animalium and the Gender of Pneuma	64
1.8	Foundations for a "Dubious" Supremacy of the Male: Tertullian and Augustine on the Transmission of Original Sin	73
1.9	On the Heels of Aristotle: The Summa Theologica of Thomas Aquinas	79
1.9.1	From "Semen and the Stars" to "Semen and Sin"	79
1.9.2	The Agency of the Holy Ghost	83
1.9.3	Reflections on Male Divinities Intervening into Women's Wombs	85
1.10	The Divine in the Prophet: The Procreation of Muhammad in the Sirat of Ibn Hisham	87
1.11	Twentieth Century Examples for the Supremacy of the Male	90
III.2	THEORETICAL, SPIRITUAL AND POLITICAL NATALITY VERSUS CHILDBIRTH	101
1.	The Babylonian Myth of Creation and the Creation Myth of the Bible	103
2.	Plato's Symposium and the Deathless Children of Philosophers	105
2.1	Discussion: Reflections on Theorein , Doing and Childbirth	113
3.	Creation Abandoned for the Idea of Good: The Justinian Myth of Edem and Elohim	114
4.	Abraham and the Binding of Isaac (in the Reading of Kierkegaard)	116
5.	From Abraham to Agamemnon: Iphigeneia at Aulis of Euripides	120
6.	Christian Devotion versus Childbirth	126
6.1	Luke 11: 27–28: The Word's Supremacy over the Womb	127
6.2	The Martyrdom of Perpetua and Felicitas	128

6.3	Birth as Deriving “from the Skins of Brutes”: Gregory of Nyssa’s Understanding of Marriage and Virginity as Different Conditions of the Soul	135
7.	On Desks and Cradles: a Letter from Héloïse to Abélard	138
8.	A World Where Saps Will Have Their Way : The Opposition of Life and Art in Rainer Maria Rilke’s Requiem for a Friend	141
9.	The Ejaculation is a Promise of Death : Simone de Beauvoir’s Conception of Individuality as Being Opposed to the Human Species	147
10.	Against the Tyranny of the Fates: Joseph Fletcher’s Plea for Rational Procreation as Opposed to Childbirth by Raw Nature	155
11.	From the Supremacy of Theorein over Childbirth to Childbirth in Theory?	160
11.1	Günter Grass: Headbirths	160
11.2	Edward Albee: Who’s Afraid of Virginia Woolf?	164
III.3	THE SUPREMACY OF THE FEMALE	169
1.	The First Birthgiving: Goddesses as Mothers of the Gods and as the Origin of the World.....	170
2.	The Creation of the World by Sophia the “Fallen Wisdom”: A Gnostic Myth	172
3.	Isis and Mary: The Supremacy of the Female and Harmony between Spiritual Birth and Childbirth	184
4.	Mikhail Epstein: The “Russian-Doll-Principle”	184
III.4	HARMONY BETWEEN SPIRITUAL/ THEORETICAL NATALITY AND CHILDBIRTH	189
1.	Childbirth, Wisdom and Mystery Religion: The Reign of Queen Isis.....	190
1.1	Plutarch’s Isis as Idea: The Goddess of Philosophers and the Goddess of Childbirth	199

1.2	Lucius Apuleius: Isis as “Blessed Queen of Heaven,” “Reliever of the Birth Pangs of Women,” and “Sovereign of All Things Spiritual”	204
2.	From Isis to Mary	207
3.	The Incarnation of the Sacred Through a Woman: Mary as “Spiritual Vessel”	210
3.1	Mary-Theotokos	214
3.2	Mary’s Disembodiment and the Painless Virgin Birth.....	218
3.3	Immaculate Conception.....	223
3.4	Mediatrix – Corredemptrix – Regina Caeli	227
3.5	Mary-Sophia	240
3.6	Two Examples for Different Conceptions of Mary: Augustine and Friedrich Schleiermacher...	241
4.	Paula Modersohn-Becker: The Pregnant Mystic.....	246
4.1	Self-Portrait on the Sixth Wedding Anniversary...	247
4.2	Self-Portrait, Two Flowers in the Raised Hand.....	250
4.3	Self- Portrait with Camellia Branch	250
5.	Mikhail Epstein: Towards an Ethics of Childbirth	253
IV.	FINAL REMARKS: A BABY HAS BEEN BORN – SO WHAT?	261
	BIBLIOGRAPHY	267