

Contents

Table of treaties and declarations	page ix
Table of cases	xiii
Table of other documents	xviii
List of abbreviations	xxvii
Introduction	1
PART 1 THE NORMATIVE GAP
1 Legal restraints on armed opposition groups as such	9
Common Article 3 and Protocol II	9
Other rules of humanitarian law	26
Human rights law	38
International criminal law	55
2 Substantive obligations of armed opposition groups as such	59
Humane treatment of prisoners	59
Protection of civilians	75
Underdevelopment of the law	92
PART 2 THE ACCOUNTABILITY GAP
3 Accountability of group leaders	97
Crimes	99
Command responsibility of group leaders	111
Criteria for accountability of group leaders	121
Limited prospects for prosecution	131
4 Accountability of armed opposition groups as such	133
Evidence for accountability of armed opposition groups	134

Cambridge University Press

0521811309 - Accountability of Armed Opposition Groups in International Law

Liesbeth Zegveld

Table of Contents

More information

viii	CONTENTS
	Attributing acts to armed opposition groups	152
	Successful armed opposition groups	155
	Finding a suitable forum	157
5	Accountability of the state for acts of armed opposition groups	164
	Applicable law	166
	The obligation of the state to take action	180
	The pertinence of territorial control	207
6	The quest for accountability	220
	Group versus individual accountability	220
	Group versus state accountability	224
	Conclusion	229
	Bibliography	231
	Index	242