

Contents

- 1 Nature of Generalized Anxiety Disorder 1
 - Historical Overview 2
 - Prevalence 4
 - Clinical Presentation 6
 - Onset, Course, and Prognosis 9
 - Comorbidity 10
 - Impact on Self, Others, and Society..... 12
 - Conclusion 14
- 2 Diagnosis and Assessment 17
 - DSM-IV-TR: Diagnostic Criteria for Generalized Anxiety Disorder..... 18
 - Assessment..... 21
 - The Clinical Interview 23
 - Structured Interviews 23
 - Self-Report Measures..... 25
 - Conclusion 28
- 3 Conceptual Models..... 31
 - Beck’s Model 31
 - Barlow’s Emotion Theory 33
 - Cognitive Avoidance Theory of Worry 34
 - Riskind’s Model of Looming Vulnerability 35
 - The Role of Intolerance of Uncertainty 37
 - Metacognitive Model 38
 - Conclusion 39
- 4 Psychosocial Treatments for Those with Generalized Anxiety Disorder 41
 - Cognitive Behavioral Therapy 42
 - Metacognitive Therapy 48

Supportive–Expressive Psychodynamic Therapy	50
Integrative Psychotherapy	51
Emotion Regulation Therapy	56
Acceptance-Based Behavior Therapy	58
Conclusion	62
5 Pharmacotherapy of Generalized Anxiety Disorder	65
Genetics.....	65
Neurobiology	67
Medications Used for Generalized Anxiety Disorder.....	68
Conclusion	83
6 Special Populations	85
Children and Adolescents	85
Clinical Presentation	87
Assessment and Diagnosis.....	88
Psychosocial Treatments.....	92
Pharmacological Treatments.....	96
Older Adults.....	99
Clinical Presentation	99
Assessment and Diagnosis.....	101
Psychosocial Treatments.....	103
Pharmacological Treatments.....	107
Conclusion	109
7 Enigmas and Paradoxes	111
Prevention	112
Cultural Considerations	113
Treatment-Resistant Generalized Anxiety Disorder.....	114
Conclusion	118
8 Future Directions and Recommendations	119
Final Remarks	124
Appendix A	127
Appendix B	135
References	137
Index.....	175