

Fernanda Peñaloza, Jason Wilson and Claudio Canaparo (eds)

Patagonia

Myths and Realities

PETER LANG

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements	vii
------------------------------	-----

FERNANDA PEÑALOZA

Introduction: Myths and Realities: Mapping Scientific, Religious, Aesthetic and Patriotic Quests in Patagonia	i
---	---

PETER HULME

Abject in Patagonia: Stories from the Wager	27
--	----

PATIENCE A. SCHELL

The Importance of Being Friendly: Charles Darwin and Robert FitzRoy in Patagonia	57
---	----

FIONA J. MACKINTOSH

Travellers' Tropes: Lady Florence Dixie and the Penetration of Patagonia	75
---	----

FERNANDA PEÑALOZA

The Missionary as a Translator: Thomas Bridges and his Yamana–English Dictionary	95
---	----

PAUL W. BIRT

The Individual and the Community in the Auto/biography of Early Welsh Patagonia (1885–1935)	117
--	-----

JENS ANDERMANN

- Conquering Time:
Mapmaking, Narrative and National Initiation 145

JASON WILSON

- Silence and Meaning in Some Patagonian Travels:
Darwin, Hudson, Moreno and Meyer 175

KARL POSSO

- Pataphysics and the Irony of Travel Writing:
Approaching Chatwin's Patagonia via Waugh's Amazonia 195

EVA-LYNN ALICIA JAGOE

- "A través de un cristal": The Representation of Patagonia
in César Aira's La liebre 215

CRISTIAN ALIAGA

- Epilogue:
The Other Side of the European Travels: Indigenous Peoples,
Renagades, Outcasts and the Literature on Patagonia 237

- Notes on Contributors 247

- Bibliography 251

- Index 265