

The Crystallization of the Iraqi State

Geopolitical Function and Form

von
Zoë Preston

1. Auflage

The Crystallization of the Iraqi State – Preston

schnell und portofrei erhältlich bei beck-shop.de DIE FACHBUCHHANDLUNG

Peter Lang Bern 2003

Verlag C.H. Beck im Internet:

www.beck.de

ISBN 978 3 03910 067 5

Contents

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Preface                                       | 13 |
| Acknowledgements                              | 15 |
| List of Maps                                  | 17 |
| Notes on Maps                                 | 18 |
| Notes on Transliteration, Spellings and Names | 18 |
| Glossary                                      | 19 |

Chapter One

Introduction

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Introduction  | 23 |
| Geographical and Historical Characteristics of Mesopotamia: |    |
| Factors Impacting on the Iraqi State                        | 27 |
| Defining the Region   | 27 |
| ‘Al-Iraq’ and ‘Al-Jazirah’                                  | 28 |
| Geography of the Region                                     | 30 |
| The Impact on the Iraqi State of the 1920s                  | 31 |
| Methodology   | 32 |

Chapter Two

The Crystallization of the Iraqi State: Theoretical Fields

|   |    |
|---|----|
| Introduction  | 35 |
| The Role of Geography                                   | 36 |
| The Impact of Geographical Location on the Geopolitical |    |
| Status of a Territory                                   | 39 |
| Mackinder’s Heartland Theory                            | 42 |
| British Interests in Mesopotamia                        | 54 |
| Constraints on British Ambitions in Mesopotamia         | 57 |
| State and Nation Building Theory                        | 59 |
| The Absorption of the Nation by the State               | 66 |
| The Transformation of Nationalism                       | 68 |

|                                      |    |
|--------------------------------------|----|
| Questioning the Modernity of Nations | 70 |
| The Mythical Elements of Nations     | 71 |
| The Paradox of the Nation            | 74 |
| The Issue of Boundaries              | 78 |
| The Problems of Reality              | 80 |
| Conclusion                           | 81 |

Chapter Three

The Population, Administration and History of the Region

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Introduction                                   | 85  |
| The Composition of the Population              | 87  |
| Ethno-Religious Communities                    | 88  |
| Tribal Communities                             | 95  |
| A Common Citizenship?                          | 99  |
| The Town and Country Divide                    | 100 |
| The Divides Existing Between and Within Cities | 101 |
| The Extent of Ottoman Control Over Iraq        | 106 |
| An Uncertain Control: 1516–1831                | 106 |
| The Tanzimat Reform Era in Iraq: 1844–1872     | 112 |
| Land Tenure Change                             | 116 |
| Vilayet Law of 1864                            | 120 |
| Educational Reform                             | 121 |
| 1875 Administration Onwards                    | 122 |
| Conclusion                                     | 123 |

Chapter Four

Great Power Interests in the Middle East before the First World War

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Introduction  | 127 |
| Partition or Preservation of the Ottoman Territories? | 129 |
| Great Power Interests in the Region                   | 133 |
| Great Britain   | 138 |
| France  | 141 |

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Russia   | 142 |
| Germany  | 145 |
| The Eastern Question                                       | 148 |
| Specific Histories of the Great Powers in the Middle East: |     |
| Before 1915  | 152 |
| Anglo-Russian Relations                                    | 152 |
| Anglo-Ottoman Relations                                    | 156 |
| Moving Towards Partition                                   | 159 |
| The Constantinople Agreement, March 1915                   | 161 |
| Anglo-French Relations                                     | 164 |
| Conclusion   | 172 |

Chapter Five

The Post-War Settlement: Creating the State of Iraq

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Introduction   | 175 |
| The Peace Treaties and Conferences after the First World War | 179 |
| The Armistice of Mudros                                      | 179 |
| American Influence   | 181 |
| The Paris Peace Conference, 1919                             | 183 |
| Sharpening of British Interests in Mesopotamia               | 184 |
| The San Remo Conference of 1920, and the Consequences        | 188 |
| The Nature of Boundaries                                     | 191 |
| The Western Boundary   | 193 |
| The Southern Boundary  | 197 |
| The Northern Boundary  | 202 |
| Conclusion   | 210 |

Chapter Six

The Post-War Settlement: Creating Iraq's Political System

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Introduction                                   | 219 |
| Constraints on British Plans for Iraq          | 220 |
| The Position and Role of the League of Nations | 221 |
| The American Influence                         | 222 |
| British Concerns over European Relationships   | 223 |

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Local Moves Towards Self-Determination                      | 223 |
| Divergences of Opinion Within British Policy-Making         | 225 |
| British Decisions Regarding the Form of Government for Iraq | 227 |
| The 1920 Revolt and its Repercussions                       | 230 |
| The Cairo Conference of 1921: Choosing a King for Iraq      | 233 |
| The Political Foundations of the New State                  | 236 |
| The 1922 Anglo-Iraq Treaty                                  | 236 |
| The Limiting of the Government of Iraq's Sovereignty        | 240 |
| The Fragility of Iraqi 'National Identity'                  | 242 |
| The Position of the Kurds                                   | 244 |
| The Position of the Shi'i                                   | 248 |
| The Position of the Jews and Other Minorities               | 250 |
| Other Political Obstacles to Iraqi National Solidarity      | 253 |
| Conclusion  | 255 |

Chapter Seven

The Effects of the Geographical Form and Political System Chosen for Iraq: Difficulties with the Development of a National Identity

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Introduction   | 259 |
| The Effects Upon National Consciousness Within Iraq    | 263 |
| The Shi'i Within Iraq                                  | 266 |
| The Kurds Within Iraq                                  | 270 |
| The Importance of Different Collective Memories        | 274 |
| The Role of Education in Spreading a National Identity | 275 |
| Different Visions of 'Independence'                    | 277 |
| Conflicting Models of Statehood                        | 280 |
| Key Obstacles to Stability                             | 285 |
| The Regional Issues Facing the New Iraqi State         | 287 |
| Issues of Identity                                     | 288 |
| New State Boundaries                                   | 291 |
| Constructing National Economies                        | 292 |
| Iraq's Attitude Towards its Neighbours                 | 294 |
| Conclusion   | 297 |

|                               |     |
|-------------------------------|-----|
| Chapter Eight                 |     |
| Conclusion                    | 303 |
|                               |     |
| Bibliography                  |     |
| Books                         | 317 |
| Articles                      | 327 |
| Theses and Unpublished Papers | 332 |
| Archive Sources               | 332 |